

I my opinion, the current concentration of media outlet ownership is already at odds with the public interest. Further consolidation of ownership is far too likely to result in abuses of power created by these monopolies.